National Safety Council (NSC) honors Savannah River Nuclear Solutions, LLC with 2013 Industry Leader Award

AIKEN, S.C. – (July 25) Savannah River Nuclear Solutions, LLC (SRNS) was recently honored with the receipt of the National Safety Council's (NSC) 2013 Industry Leader award for exemplary safety performance within the Hazardous Waste Treatment and Disposal industry.

SRNS is one of 55 organizations honored with the 2013 Industry Leader Award, which recognizes the top 5 percent of NSC member companies. The company's performance also won them the NSC 2013 Occupational Excellence Achievement Award, for the fifth straight year.

"SRNS is committed to our non-negotiable safety core value. Safety and security come first in all that we do; we don't just talk about it, we walk-the-walk," said Dwayne Wilson, SRNS president and CEO. "This award is reflective of our employees' ongoing dedication to safe performance and operational excellence."

To receive the Industry Leader Award, NSC member-companies must have zero lost time injury cases and no fatalities during the 2012 calendar year, and they must demonstrate safety performance that is among the best within their North American Industry Classification code.

SRNS was one of five Industry Leader Award winners in the Hazardous Waste Treatment and Disposal classification.

The National Safety Council recently awarded SRNS with the 2013 Industry Leader Award and the 2013 Occupational Excellence Award for exemplary safety performance in their industry.

The Savannah River Site is owned by the U.S. Department of Energy and is managed and operated by Savannah River Nuclear Solutions, LLC.
